in the face of a deadly fire, the guns reached, the gunsers shot or bayoosted, the satire battery in our possession almost in as short a time as I have taken to write an account of it. The charge of the 5th Michigan was one of the bravest and most successful of the war. The Potomac at the ford is about four feet deep. The boys three off their costs and wand seroes in water up to their waists and with many of them nearly up to their necks. The guns, with one exception, were all brought across the river. The one left on the other side was spixed, diamounted and rolled down the bind. Two of the pieces for merly belonged to Griffin's battery which was taken from as at the first battle a Bail Rue; snotter was a Parrot and the others, 13-pound trees howithers, manufactured in England. The battery altogether is perhaps the most raimble taxen by McCaillan since he has had command out the army. It should be presented to the brave 4th Michigan as a reward for their achievement.

He burned only to aid the Union against its enemies, without thought of personal emolument or position. His rapid rise from the ranks was due to his very manufacture of the control of was dissections. It is comment and unversity to record the surrender of a fortification held by 10,000 men, with a loss of less than 150 killed and wounded. That tells the story. The averender of Munfordsville was another pusilanimous affair. It was the duty of the garrison to hold out until Buell exms up, and there is reason to believe it would have been The One Hundred and Second Illinoi Megiment.

Get. McDowell would Not Help Gen General Pleasanton The name of General Pleasanton, which has agured complemently in the recent battles in Maryland, has not heretolore been familiar to our readers. Belgadier General Afred Pleasanton is a native of the District of Columbia, anton is a native of the District of Columbia, from which he entered the Military Academy in 1840. He was commissioned full second licutenant of dragoons in November 1845. He served in Mexico, where he won much distinction and a brevet. He became a captain in 1865. In 1861, by the resignation of traitors, Piessanton rapidly advanced on the list, until he was senior captain in the cavalry service. He scon became colonel of cavalry, and in July last, was made a brigadier general of volunteers, and was given the command of

The character of this Turple, where he is known, may be inferred from the following, which we copy from the Logansport Journal. When the soldiers of the 12th regiment of Iradians rounteers received the news of Turple's nemination, the men of company D, recreited in his (Turple's) own town and consty, took a vote among themselves upon the candidates for Congress. The result showed that there was not a single Turple man in the whole company. This we have from one of in

The present tour. It is no use denying that the president's speech to the colored deputation has produced a very unfavorable effect here. It is case seed the conference would nave had no referred deputation has produced a very unfavorable effect here. It is case seed the conference would nave had no resources, and as soon, as the entire available the subject, to see that, whatever connecis may be used, facts are working for the overthrow of abvers. But the great public came not be expected to understand the subject, and independent of the North, who are always endeavoring to prove that the American war has nothing to do with the slavery question, have see agreedily on Mr. Lincoln's too cadid expressions, as couvinoing evidence that all the North wants is to get sid of the negro, to matter what happens to him.

This speech, coupled with the announcement that the war has greated in raising great armies of troops has destroyed the popular opinion, and, for the time, our press is turning more and more in favor of the South. The fact that the South has succeeded in raising great armies of troops has destroyed the popular delusion that the war was about to end through the channels not of the corting of the war is likely to last has proved very severe. Nobedy can regret the state of public feeling towards America more bittery than I do; but yet I think it fair to state that it is not to unitaellightie as it may seem to you.

The war mumber of Englishmen believe that the war is a hopeless one and involves so high principles; they know that the war is a very devoted one or a very creditable one. I know it myself to be a fluse one. But I cannot wonder that people, believing it sincerely, should be beatled to know that he was no assistance to a seldement of the struggle, which would restore prosperity at home. I do not say persoon dislike to America or Americans, which, except amongs class, has no existence.

Arrival of the Prize Steamship Committed with a Cargo of Arms, Ammusition, &c.

The prize steamship Columbia, acting mater Charles Smith, arrived at this port yesterdey morning, in even days from Key West. She is consigned to the United States Marshal of Florids, who is on Foard. She spoke on the 14th Inst. off Cape Carnival, British brig Nascy, Riley, of London, from Minatilian for London, in distress, all hands down with twer, and supplied her with medians, ice, &c. On Friday hast, off Capes off the Chesapeake, made a steamer ahead, and altered our curve to speak her and obtain late Now York pipers; upon seeing our change of course, as anddexly, and to our great surprise, veered about and stramed off to the essiward at a rapid rate. The Columbia showed her colors and dipped them gracefully to her, but she took we notice of the compliment, our parties of our Seponder commonade. The unknown steamer evidencies supposed the Columbia to Col. d'Utansy at Harper's Ferry.

Too much praise cannot be awarded to Col. F. G. d'Utansy, commanding the 1st brigade, who was fearlessly riding along the heighting. Not content with his own fail uniform, he borrowed au ensign, and aurrounded by his staff and attended by d'er mounted order-lies, da-hed boldly along where the shells were thickerst and danger most imminent. Strange to say, none of his staff were injured. He was repeatedly cheared by his men as he passed and repossed them. On the morning of the surrender, when summoned to the conneil of war, he rode up, staff, ensign and all, amid the shower of balls and shells. Upon being urged to dismount by the commanding officer, as his presence made the whole party quite compicuous, he replied, 'I have yet to learn what fear is; but, since you command it, sit, I will dismount.' At the council, his voice was loud against sarrender-lig. On being told that their long rayes anumnition was exhausted, he replied, 'Well, can't we fight them at short rayes, then?' As this would only secritice the soldars without gaining any advantage, he proposed 'cutting our way out.' And at last reluciantly consented to the surrender, insisting, however, that our men should not be hamilianed by flung in front of the rebets and sacking their arms, and also that officers abould retain their discarms and private property, and that redy parole should be granted to all. Those were the terms obtained by Gen. White.

Corey, a native of Boston, Mass, and now a refugee-well known here as a mass of veracity—arrived here yesterday with his wife. He was a merchant in Petersburgh, but forced into the rebel army, as no ausstitute could be procured. He obtained leave of absence for a few days from the camp at Richmond, and returned home; and once there, under pretense of business, he took his wife and went to Suffolk, and from there to Norfolk. He found no pickets between Richmond and Suffolk, and was thus enabled to escape. He gives some interesting news. A Brave Boy.

[From the St. Faul Press]

Near Lake Shetek, sixty onles south west of New Ulm, a family was surprised by Iodiana, the isther killed, and the mother seized as prasoner, but two children, one twelve years and the other less than two years of age, were concealed from the savages in a naughboring thicket of grass and two years of age, were concealed from the savages in a naughboring thicket of grass and weeds. After the siarm the mother thus concealed her children, her last words to she of the concealed her children, her last words to she of the concealed her children, her last words to she of the concealed her children, her last words to she only the content of the concealed her children, her last words to save lad, with his bother and never leave into. The indiama disappearing with their captives and plunder, the brave lad, with heir captives and plunder, the brave lad, with his concealed her children, who had laid down to die, having been etruck by no less than eight builets, and who insisted that it was hopeless to attempt to escape. "But," was the aerout reply of the hop," in ymother's last words were to save my little brother, and I sun going to do it. "This devoted courage gave new life to Iroland, who strengled forward, and all reached New Ulm without scriftent. Iroland is now recovering. On the next day after the arrival at New Ulm, the mother of the children was brought in by a scouring party. The Indians, finding ber an incumbrance to their retreat, and not being at the moment disposed to kill her, had left the woman on the parier, and after many days wandering, the was required to her children.

THE YATES INOUSIDES.—This crack regiment of cavalry is now tast filling up, and will be ready to go into camp in a few days. Lieut. Col. Headley at Peoria, and Col. D. P. Hancock, commanding at Epringfield, are working energetically and with success. Measrs. Kidder and Lord, recruiting officers, can be found at their beadquarters in the round tent in the sontheast corner of the Court House Square. They have already a number of young men enrolled and bid fair to torm a good company.

ITALIAN CONSULATE AT CHICAGO.—The growing importance of our city has determined the government of Italy to establish a consular port here. In the meantime Mr. Rayin d'Elipeux, vice consul of France at Chiesgo, is charged with the functions of consul for his majesty, Victor Immanuel, king of Italy, until a permanent appointment shall be made. M. d'Elpeux is well known to our prominent citizens, who speak the French language, and is highly sategamed.

Apropos of consuls at Chicago. We be lieve none of the consuls, except those of France and England, receive regular salaries from their governments. The others are paid by fees. France and England pay their consuls at this port regular salaries, and consequently prohibit them from engaging in commercial transactions.

THEFT IN OPEN DAYLIGHT.-A Valuable TREFT IN OFEN DAYLIGHT.—A valuable chair, costing thirty-dwe dollars, was stolen on Monday afternoon, from the house of G. A. Meech, City Attorney, under rather singular circumstances. Mr. Meech had just purchased the chair, and Mrs. Meech was sitting in it in front of the house enjaying the lake prospect, when a neighbor cafled. Mrs. M. accompanied her into the parlor, and at the same time pushed the chair into the hall, past the parior door, which was left open. The visit was ended in a few minutes, but during that time the chair had disappeared. The house was searched all over, and all hands called to account for this mysterious instance of furniture moving, which eclipsed anything that has been related of spiritual agency. No clue has yet been gained to ed upon United States Marshal necquences of Mr. Ballard, one of the Insuarmoe" prisoners, having vit, in which he set forth that was busily engaged, with the prisoners, in concecting new in discussing the rebei pro-

Burning Tilinois Coal, We have seen what we doem a perfect burn-er of Blinois coal. That this is a dealderatum, er of Hincis coal. That this is a desideratum, we scarcely need prove to our readers, who are sware of the deposits of this facil in our distale, the price it bears compared with other coals, and the prices of all facil the present existent. But heretofore, the consumption of Hincis bituminous coal his not been pleasunt, if profitable. Rich in carbon, it has been festile in the product of gases and the sooty fraits of semi-combustion. The reterm sleve manufacture, Stewart, he coped with said conquered these evils, and produced astore

$2,000, in the Peoria Fire and Marine Insurance company.

The building adjoining the manufactory on the north, was a two story frame dwelling, owned by Mr. Wiggers and occupied by Mr. Thomas. It was seriously damaged, but a strong wind blowing from the north prevented its untire destruction, and carried the flames towards the dwellings located south of the burning shop. The first of these was a two-story frame house, owned by Hendrick Walman, and occupied by himself and a tonant. The building and most of the contents were entirely consumed. No insurance.

The next building in the block was also a frame dwelling, owned by Patrick Wales, and vacant. Not insured.

The next in the path of the devouring element was also a two-story frame dwelling, belonging to Henry Duff, whose family lived on the first floor, with another family in the upper part. The building and contents were a total loss.

The fifth, and last building entirely consumed, was a large framed welling, two stories block overal by fecure Hartinan and goon.

The fifth, and last building entirely con-sumed, was a large framed welling, two stodes high, owned by George Hartman, and occu-pied by five different families, most of whose furniture shared the same fate as the dwelling itself. Mr. Hartman was insured for $300 in the Firemen's Insurance Company. In the rear of these buildings were two or three small stables which were considerably dam-ared. CHICAGO ROUGHS DEAD.-Intelligence has m received in this city of the death of two orious Chicago roughs, Patrick Pheeney I Bendigo. The former was killed in a lee in St. Joseph, Mo., and the latter at St.

Annest Of A Desenvan.—Last evening Jan. S. Smith, late a private in company C, 57th Illinois infantry, Colonel Baldwin, was arrested and placed in confinement by order of Colonel Baldwin. Smith is charged with having deserted from his post while on guard duty in the face of the enemy. This is a serious charge, and one which, if mehatantised, will subject him to death, the penalty in such cases.

In accordance with a previous announce—U.

In accordance with a previous announce-ment, a meeting was held last night in Trinity Church, to hear and act upon such statements as might be made by W. H. Woodbury, Esq., of Minnesota, and also by the Common Coun-cil of the city of St. Panh, to visit Chicago and several Eastern cities, to solicit and forward such contributions of money, clothing and other articles as the people whom he may visit shall be willing to make.

The meeting was but thinly attended, owing, doubtless, more to the limited notice given to the public than from any lack of sympathy with the object for which it was called.

The exercises of the occasion were opened.

The exercises of the occasion were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Fratt, who followed his appeal by a few excreet remarks explanatory of the purposes of the meeting, and also read letters of introduction, brought by Mr. Woodbury, from Gowernor Runsey, and other distinguished citizens of Munseota. Dr. Fratt then introduced Mr. Woodbury, who addressed the audience in an interesting manner, reciting briefly the recent Indian massacres in Minnesota.

The speaker observed that for many months

cree in Minnesots.

The speaker observed that for many months past the Indians in that country had been greatly incensed by the conduct of the Government Agent in that State, who, among other sets of bad faith, had permitted large quantities of spirituous liquors to be introduced among them, to which the chiefs strongly objected. Finally, becoming exasparated at these persistent sets of siggression, they had adopted the cruel alternative of attempting to redress their wrongs, both real and ing to redress their wrongs, both real and imaginary, by an indiscriminate massacre of white citizens. Thus hundreds of persons, bawk and scalping knife. Those who were have and scanned and the control of the control of tunate refugees at St. Paul ; 1,000 at Minneap. tenate refugees at St. Paul; 1,000 at Minnesp-olis, and large numbers at many of the smaller towns in the State. These persons were utterly destitute of the comforts of life, and would gladly receive contributions of money, clothing, furniture, provisions, and any article which could be used by people thus dreumstanced. The speaker had not la-tended to make a lengthy address; his plan was to labor quietly with individuals, rather than to deliver addresses to public assembla-ges. He hoped and believed that the citizens than to deliver addresses to public assemblisges. He hoped and believed that the citizens of Chicago, whenever these matters were fairly presented and understood by them, would manifest their accustomed liberality.

Mr. Woodbury closed his remarks with an earnest appeal to the andience to adopt anch.

arrest appeal to the andience to adopt such measures as would enlist the efforts of the citizens here. Rev. Dr. Pratt suggested, as an initiatory measure, the appointment of a committee to see that the matter is properly presented before the public through the churches
